

Dr Chris Doherty

Managing Director, Alderley Park

Chris is leading the Alderley Park site regeneration project which included the site sale and stimulating new business ventures on the site. As Site Director of the Park, Chris is managing the further development of the bioscience campus. Chris graduated as a Pharmacist completing a PhD in pharmaceutical technology and a MBA a few years later. Chris worked for Glaxo in Canada and the UK in Development and Operations roles before moving to Roche to be Head of Pharmacy R&D for the UK. Chris has over 26 years of pharmaceutical research and development experience and has been associated with bringing a number of brands through to launch in several major pharmaceutical companies